During Spring 2006 The National Research Council of the National Academies empanelled a Committee in response to a request from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration-National Environmental Satellite, Data, and Information Service (NOAA-NESDIS) to provide advice on how to archive and provide access to its environmental and geospatial data. This task is relevant as background to DMIT. The Academy released a preliminary report during May 2006. The full report is available as a PDF from the National Academy Website (after you sign in at [\[1\]](#)).
